Join our call for proposals to build a new era of green accountability for more effective and equitable climate finance and action.

what is green accountability?
Green accountability creates systemic ways for people to have a voice and role in the climate decisions that most impact their lives. It places citizens and civil society at the heart of climate finance to direct funding, implement solutions, and hold decision-makers accountable for effective and equitable climate finance and action.

Learn more at greenaccountability.org

a crucial moment for action
The climate crisis threatens all of us, especially the most vulnerable. We won’t solve it without charting a new path for sustainable climate action that creates a meaningful role for citizens everywhere in climate decisions.

we only have 7 years left to prevent a catastrophic rise in global temperature

Green accountability creates systemic ways for people to have a voice and role in the climate decisions that most impact their lives. It places citizens and civil society at the heart of climate finance to direct funding, implement solutions, and hold decision-makers accountable for effective and equitable climate finance and action.

less than 10% of climate funding has been prioritized for local activities

green accountability in action engage Civil society has a direct say in how and where climate finance is used.

solve
Local knowledge and community participation inform and deliver climate solutions.

monitor
Communities and governments have transparent data to ensure climate solutions are making a real impact.
the green accountability initiative

We are launching a global Green Accountability Call for Proposals for more effective and equitable climate solutions. It will create a space for rapid experimentation and innovation among civil society organizations (CSOs) and governments.

As the first step in this new initiative, we are seeking a civil society partner or consortium of partners to manage the green accountability grants program for flexible and fast funding to local CSOs. The program includes:

- Micro grants: for rapid support to pilot green accountability mechanisms, capacity, and platforms
- Large grants: for country pilots of green accountability initiatives
- Learning & outreach: to build a global network of green accountability practitioners

Apply here by May 27, 2023. More details are available here.

---

get involved

We’ve committed $4 million, and we’re looking for like-minded partners to join us. Your collaboration will:

- Enable rapid experimentation and innovation in green accountability to identify the most promising and effective models and frameworks for scaling it.
- Advance green accountability on the global stage for climate solutions that meet global challenges and community needs at the same time.
- Influence the emerging climate finance ecosystem to integrate citizen and civil society voices for more effective and equitable climate action.

Join the call: Contact us at gpsa@worldbank.org to discuss how you can become a founding partner of this initiative.

---

our growing network

- AccountabilityLab
- AFD
- Transparency & Accountability Initiative
- World Bank Group

---

why the global partnership for social accountability (GPSA)?

Over the past decade, GPSA has proven governments and civil society can work collaboratively to effect positive change. Learn more about our work at https://thegpsa.org/.

Growing global challenges like climate change are pushing us to do better, faster – without leaving anyone behind. We are charting a bolder, greener, and more innovative future for the GPSA and civil society participation.

We invite you to partner with us to expand the impact of green accountability and help us shape the new GPSA.